What type of wedding do you want ?

Do you want a very small group of close friends and family or a festive gala for many ? Should it be indoors or outside in the gazebo ? A simple hors d'oeuvres and cake reception, an elegant dinner or a celebration with music, dancing food and beverages into the night ?

These questions are an issue of style and reflect how you as a new couple want to spend one of happiest times in your life. It also reflects how you want to remember this day for years to come. It is one of your first major decisions as a new couple and should be made by you alone.

The Inn will help make whatever you want come true, just for you.

Indoor Weddings

You have your choice of getting married in the Library facing the bay window to the south with a roaring fire in the fireplace and your guests gathered around. Others prefer the Conference Room bay window with the gardens in the background. Another popular site is the Solarium where the counter is transformed into an altar and the sun shines through the windows of the turret. And everyone can't resist coming down the grand staircase and the many pictures that follow with friends and relatives gathered together on the steps.

After the wedding, a reception can follow with a full dinner for up to 64 prepared by our own chefs just the way you like it. Prefer a simple reception with hors d'oeuvres and cake, up to 120 guests can mingle together. Refer to our catering brochure for a sample menu and pricing information. If you don't find the food that you like, simply ask and we will price your very own menu so that you can enjoy that special meal, your first meal, as newlyweds.

The Inn will be decorated for you if you provide your colors to us. We create elegant silk arrangements to meet almost any wish and this is included in your Inn rental cost. Want to add some fresh flowers ? It will be an additional cost, but will be no problem for our staff.

By booking the entire Inn, you have the opportunity to have family and close friends enjoying a large country home together - an experience they too will remember for years to come and yet you can enjoy your own privacy in the Aberdeen Suite or any other suite that you would select. A rehearsal dinner the night before and a chance to relax with your special guests on into the evening prepares you for that big day. Breakfast together the following morning gets you all started. The breakfast is included in the room rental and you can select the menu. Following the wedding and reception, you can retire for the evening while your guests relive the moment as a group or enjoy a quiet evening alone in one of our eleven suites.

Indoor weddings at The Inn at Aberdeen are obviously a very wonderful way to begin your life together and create a memory that you, your family and guests will never forget.

Outdoor Weddings

Outdoor weddings bring the fresh smell of the gardens, the warmth of the sunlight and the chirping of the birds to your special day. Our gazebo provides a wonderful place to tie the knot and memorable pictures for years to come. The gazebo will be decorated for you with silk arrangements to coordinate with your colors. If you would like to add fresh flowers, it can be done for an additional cost. And, of course, since you've rented the Inn, you can always get a few more pictures on the grand staircase.

After the wedding, you can have hors d'oeuvres and cake in the Inn for up to 120, an elegant dinner for sixty or host your reception under canopies in the gardens for up to 250 with a buffet or plated and served dinner of your choice. Don't want a fancy reception ? How about a barbecue or hog roast and a little line dancing ? We will be happy to work with you to make your dreams come true.

Need a little music ? Musicians in the gazebo to accompany your vows, strike up a tune under the canopy or play the latest CDs with your own DJ to keep the party rocking into the night.

As the party starts to wind down, you and your special friends and family can relax in the Inn together, share stories and then retire to your rooms for a quiet, relaxing evening. Awaken in the morning to a gourmet breakfast that you have chosen for your guests.

A wedding at The Inn at Aberdeen, Ltd., whether you are inside or out in the gardens, is a splendid way to start your life together.
