

SUBJECT LINE:
CHAPTER 2: LOVE WINS
The Story of the Brewery Gulch Inn and Romance on the Mendocino Coast

Dear X,

Sometimes, when it comes to love, it's all about 2nd chances. Or rather, 2nd chapters.

Picture this: Man buys an inn, moves from big city, meets girl in Mendocino, lures girl away from lucrative career in big city, they marry and have a daughter, build the reputation of an inn, and then launch a wine label.

It's been a busy five years for Guy and Sarah Pacurar, owners of the award-winning Brewery Gulch Inn on the majestic Mendocino Coast. The pair fell in love in Mendocino, and now they want to help their guests do the same.

"My second chapter began eight years ago, when I decided to pursue my dream of becoming an innkeeper," states Guy. "Although I bought Brewery Gulch Inn in 2007, and I loved living in Mendocino, there was something still missing. It was Sarah! We met, fell in love, and have become partners in all things, including the raising of our 3-year old daughter, Ella; the management of the inn; and most recently, the establishment of a small, family wine label. Together with Sarah's father, our daughter, Ella, and my daughter, Taylor, we've launched our labor of love, Fathers & Daughters Cellars.

In celebration of love, the Brewery Gulch Inn is offering guests a special "Ultimate Romantic Escape" package which will include a 2-day itinerary highlighting all of the magical Mendocino experiences Guy and Sarah found on their own path to love.

Guests can begin by exploring and eating their way up the ruggedly beautiful Mendocino Coast, and then spend their second day dining and winetasting in the county's uncrowded and charming Anderson Valley.

Spend both nights at the majestic yet cozy Brewery Gulch Inn, where they'll be pampered by an executive chef (who cooks just for guests of the inn), sip on local wines (Fathers & Daughters among them), snuggle up together in front of their own fireplace, (and if the Ultimate Romantic Escape is chosen), enjoy an in-room couples massage and a picnic on the beach.

Guy and Sarah can't promise that following in their footsteps will guarantee similar success in love, but as any visitor will tell you -- it's hard to deny the romance of the Mendocino Coast.

"It took just two days for the area to work its magic on us," Guy confides. "See if that doesn't happen to you."

High-res images of the property are available upon request. We do hope you'll consider us for any "Romance" or "Valentine's Day" stories you might be working on!

Please do let me know if I can answer any questions you may have about the above, and – as always – thank you for your consideration!

Best regards,

About Fathers & Daughters Cellars

Fathers & Daughters Cellars is one family's labor of love to produce artisanal wines from the Anderson Valley's storied Ferrington Vineyard. Small batches, carefully crafted and fermented using old-world techniques, yield wines that are truly reflective of their terroir. Like the relationship between a father and daughter, these wines will continue to evolve as they mature. The 2012 Pinot Noir and the 2013 Sauvignon Blanc are the first two wines produced by Father & Daughters Cellars, and were released on Father's Day – June 21, 2015.
