Private dining is the new going out and the life and soul of the party is definitely in the Red Lion's Private Dining. With the benefits of excellent service, mouthwatering menus and classic decor, all in your own private space.

Colchester is one of the oldest towns in Britain. You can still pick up Roman coins on the beach on a good day. About 30 years before Columbus discovered America, the Red Lion opened its doors so it's not surprising that it's a Grade 1 listed building and is the second oldest hostelry in England.

The Parliament restaurant which takes its name from the first day Oliver Cromwell ran the country, from the very same room, is the perfect venue for family gatherings, celebrations, business dinners or supper-club soires.
