PALO ALTO, Calif. (January 22, 2014) — Forbes Travel Guide today unveiled its official 2014 Forbes Travel Guide Star Rating list, naming Garden Court Hotel as a new Forbes Travel Guide Four-Star Hotel. Garden Court Hotel will be showcased with all of the 2014 Star Rating recipients on ForbesTravelGuide.com.

Set in the heart of Silicon Valley in Downtown Palo Alto, this luxury boutique hotel grew up with the tech industry. Each of its 62 chic guest rooms and penthouse suite feature current technology and sensibilities that speak to our travelers and their brand of luxury. Landscaped balconies with city and open-air courtyard views flood the property with natural light, offering a distinct California experience. Luxury guestrooms were recently designed by Spanish interior designer and tastemaker Pablo Paniagua with custom furnishings, open floor plans and the latest technology for on-the-go guests. The Garden Court Hotel team's creativity and personal touches, such as custom turndown amenities, private guest lockers and curbside arrival services create enthusiastic and devoted guests.

"We are delighted to receive the Forbes Travel Guide Four-Star Award," says Barbara Gross, General Manager of Garden Court Hotel. "This recognition is a testimonial to the dedication of our team in caring for each guest and their pride in our hotel. We are truly honored."

Garden Court Hotel is the latest installment to the luxury travel ratings that have been the gold standard in the hospitality industry since 1958.

"Our Star Ratings recognize the finest hotels, restaurants and spas in the world. These ratings serve as guideposts for consumers seeking exceptional travel experiences, and our primary mission is to serve the consumer," said Michael Cascone, President of Forbes Travel Guide. "We're proud to be associated with the new additions to our global list."
