

The U.S.
Presidential Culinary
Museum®
Grover, NC

INSIDE THE PRESIDENTS' CABINET

The Commander and Chief of All Cooking Shows

A LIVE stage show and dinner associated with its TV appearances

What was President Kennedy's favorite dessert? Why did Jefferson steal rice while in Italy despite being warned it was a capital offense punishable by death? What was President Clinton's favorite lunch whenever at Camp David? Is it right the first Chef to the President was a black man named Hercules that Washington refused to set free? Not only will you learn the truth, see many and hidden histories, but you will get the recipes, and watch them being prepared on this unique and original "history-making" cooking show.

Former Executive Chef at Camp David and a Chef at the White House, Marti Mongiello, and his wife, Chef Stormy, Curator of The Presidential Culinary Museum, take us on this entertaining and informative trip through Presidential culinary history. In each show, Chef Marti showcases dinnerware and artifacts from the Presidential Culinary Museum about that shows featured President - while entertaining the audience with anecdotes and background. In the show featuring President Washington, for instance, after telling the audience about Washington's historic chef, Hercules, Chef Marti goes into the kitchen and prepares two of Washington's favorite desserts – Cherry Pie and Trifle with Homemade Custard. Marti then dispels the myths of the President's wooden teeth, the throwing of a silver dollar across the Potomac River and finally, the story of chopping down the cherry tree. As the pie emerges from the oven and trifle escapes from the icebox, a young British Colonel Washington, and wife, Martha enters in full regalia and sit down to partake of the freshly made goods.

With Chef Marti and Stormy's extensive background and association with Presidents Bush, Obama, Clinton, and Trump in addition to the Presidential Culinary Museum, locations for each show already include places like Monticello, Montpelier, The Reagan Library, The George Bush Foundation and The Clinton Foundation Museum. Alternatively, enjoy them at your estate, club, or resort for a show.

The success of Inside the Presidents' Cabinet is guaranteed by Chef Marti and Stormy (and his team) impeccable reputation and ongoing association with a sponsorship pool that includes some of the largest and most recognizable brand names in the hospitality industry. Also, our country's renewed sense of patriotism, its insatiable interest in the personal lives of celebrities, and the unique and incomparable knowledge and private association with the material presented all combine to guarantee success for your live shows and dinners.