FUNDO SAN JOSÉ PARQUE ECOLÓGICO & LODGE

Chanchamayo, Perú

Fundo San Jose Ecological Park & Lodge is a paradise for those who would like to enjoy the beauty of our exotic tropical jungle, with perfect facilities to introduce guests to the magic of the Central Rainforest of Perú. The scenery is astonishing. Waking to the sound of so many varieties of birds and exploring the flora and fauna of Peru's High Jungle are unforgettable experiences. The Lodge offers a variety of guided activities including bird walks and nature, butterfly and orchid trails and visits the nature interpretation center, an indigenous family in the rainforest and the Sanctuary of Cock of the Rock.

We work with the communities outside the ecolodge. We have special programs for them such as English lessons for people in the community, participating in agricultural and reforestation tasks.

The Fundo San José Lodge team remains at your entire disposal, offering all the required lodging and travel arrangements for your customers in the Central Peruvian Rainforest (eg. transfers, tours, shore trips, multilingual staff, etc.), at the best quality and with unbeatable prices

LOCATION OF THE FUNDO SAN JOSÉ LODGE

A few minutes of La Merced, Chanchamayo, in the High Jungle of the Junin Province, Peru

Distance from the Centre: La Merced: 5 km or 10 minutes.

Altitude: 800 m.a.s.
Climate: Tropical and warm

HOW TO GET THERE?

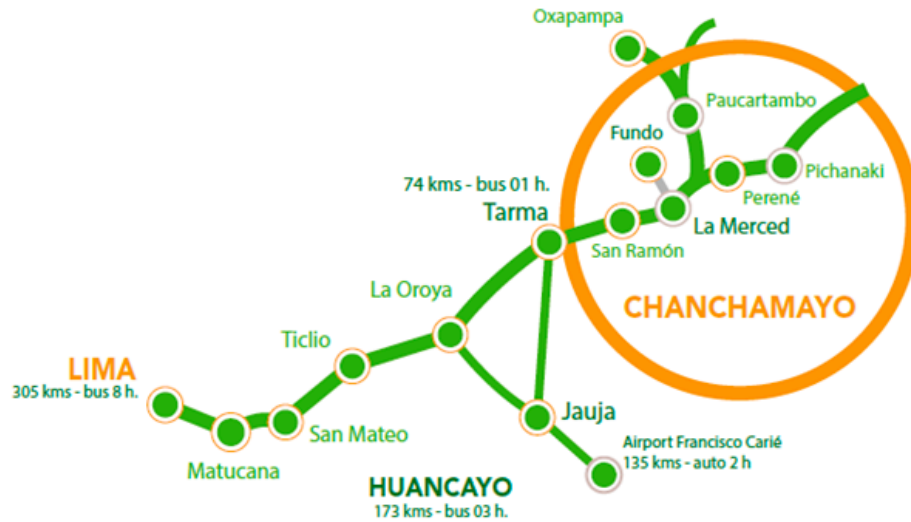

The travel starts in Lima, by the Central highway. Once we leave Chosica, you can appreciate the impacting change in the landscapes, which will accompany us during the entire trip. The towns of Matucana and San Mateo are the gate to arrive to the top: “el abra de Anticona” (Anticona inlet), located to 4,818 meters above sea level. Ticlio is the highest point on the road. Since this amazing place, surrounded by snow and blue lakes it starts the downturn. We will arrive to La Oroya, an important mining center, place where we will take a side track to Tarma, so called “La Perla de Los Andes”. We continue the downturn by the oriental branch line of Los Andes, in direction to the High Jungle of Junin “Chanchamayo valley”.

Fundo San José

Parque Ecológico & Lodge

We will appreciate from the highway, the green mountains and the spectacular waterfalls welcoming us. La Merced, capital of Chanchamayo, is a small city, with a warm climate, full of life and commerce, on the shores of the Chanchamayo river, at a height of 800 meters above sea level. Following the path we will arrive to Herrería Bridge (not enter to San Ramon), cross the bridge to reach the 104 km (Primax Chrismar tap as reference), the left side can see a big sign "Fundo San José", enter that street and continue to front, finding our wonderful Lodge.

ACTIVITIES AT LODGE:

ITALIAN DANCES – 1 hour

Tarantella is a popular dance from the south of Italia, from the Italian regions of Puglia, Basilicata, Calabria, Campania and Sicilia. It is a dance of Neapolitan origin that has a very vibrant movement. In its most common modern form, it is a dance of couple courtship with music in compass of six by eight that raises progressively the speed and it is accompanied of castanets and tambourines. It has two differenced parts: one in minor scale and other in major scale. During the Middle Ages, in some parts of the south of Italy, it was believed that dancing the solo of tarantella could cure a type of madness supposed to be caused by the bite of the European spider, the wolf spider or a tarantula. However, the name of tarantella comes from the Italian city of Tarento (in Italian language, Taranto). The Saltarello, The Monferrina, The Pizzica, among others.

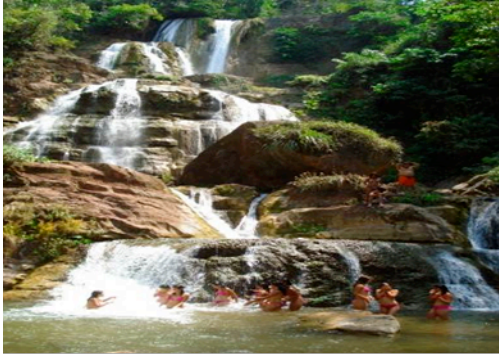

PLANT A SMALL TREE, “Lets plant a tree in Chanchamayo” – 2 hs.

Activities carried out for the reforestation of our forest, it is done in one of our reforestation zones, and with the help of an Agronomic Engineer, the visitor could plant a tree. When coming back to the Lodge, the hotel will give to each person a Plant Certification.
