The Whipper is a 17th century inn which was originally built to provide a resting point for people and horses. In recent times it has been owned and managed by Brook Hotels for around 30 years. During which time it has always aspired to provide it's guests and diners with the fine traditions of both hospitality and food, which we cook on the premises with fine ingredients.

I began my hotel career in the five star Taj Hotel in Madras and progressed to work in throughout the Middle East. Keen to learn new cuisines I worked in a great variety of restaurants in Bahrain and Dubai. I was finally chosen as an exhibition chef for the most prestigious 7 star hotel in Dubai- Burj Al-Arab. There I was awarded a Middle East Young Chef of the Year and subsequently travelled extensively in Asia, competing and winning many further competitions and awards. My food formed the promotional pictures for the Carlton Tower Hotel in London and I have been privileged, over the years, to have cooked for many foreign dignitaries.

I look forward to meeting you personally when you dine here and I sincerely hope that your food experience will be memorable.
