HOOVER DECIDES TO KEEP PLACE IN COOLIDGE CABINET

Declines Commercial Enterprises' Offers for Services—Yields to President.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 20.—(Associated Press.) Secretary Hoover has definitely decided to remain in the Cabinet despite various efforts by commercial organizations to secure his services.

Mrs. Hoover made this decision after President Coolidge had earnestly requested that he remain in the service of the government.

Recently gossip about the capital has included Mr. Hoover's name in the list of members of the President's official family likely to go out of office when the new administration begins on March 4. The secretary has declined to make any statement but it was learned today that he had informed Mr. Coolidge of his decision to stay.

Mr. Hoover made his decision member of President Harding's original cabinet in 1921, consented to take the commerce portfolio only after he had been assured he would be given a free hand to reorganize to the needs of the business world.

Much of this re-organization program has been put into effect, but Mr. Hoover desires to carry to completion.

HONOR WOMAN WHO DEFEATED BRITISH

After 144 Years, Mary Patton, Will Be Honored For Patriotism

After 144 years, during which her patriotism remained unknown and unsung, the little woman who won the battle of Kings Mountain is to be honored on the very ground on which the sturdy American mountaineers climbed inch by inch as they decimated the ranks of Gen. Ferguson's army and turned the tide of the Revolutionary War, according to the following Sportonburg, S. C., letter in the Boston Globe.

History has taken no cognizance of enabled Sevier, Shelby and Campbell to win the history-making battle of Kings Mountain.

Now, after almost a century and a half, Mrs. Patton's memory is to be honored at the celebration to be held at Kings Mountain, N. C. this month, and the guest of honor at the celebration will be Mrs. S. E. Goforth of Shelby, direct descendant of the brave little matron who played a big role in the winning of a war and who, like many heroes died unhonored.

By a peculiar whim of fate the little woman who later was to bring about the discomfiture of England was born and reared to maturity in Britain. When she reached young womanhood, Mary McKeehen emigrated to the colonies, where she met and fell in love with John Patton, who had come to America from Ireland. Mary learned the art of powder making in England, and her husband became interested in this trade after coming to America.

After their marriage, Mr. and Mrs. Patton went to Tennessee, where they established and operated a powder plant near the mouth of Buffalo Creek, in Carter County. This little stream now is known as Powder Mill.

On the banks of this creek Mr. and Mrs. Patton plied their trade and prospered until the Revolutionary War broke out. John Patton went to fight for his adopted country, while his patriotic wife remained at home to operate the little powder mill.

500 Pounds of Powder. When it became known in the mountains of Tennessee that a British General named Ferguson was conducting a drive that threatened to paralyze the Colonial forces, the mountaineers responded eagerly to calls for volunteers sent out by Col. Sevier and his brother officers, Shelby and Campbell.

Within a short time there were several hundred keen-eyed riflemen to follow the three intrepid patriots who were ready to tackle the herculean task of checking the advance of the British.

But there was one big handicap, one big problem which caused serious concern to the three leaders and their command. There was not enough powder to equip the brave patriots.

Firemen and Community Chorus Will Share Old Schoolhouse.

STRATFIELD, Nov. 20.—(By Telegram Service.) Officials of the Stratfield Fire department and the Stratfield Community chorus have affably smoothed out what appeared to be a troublesome mix-up. The Community building, which has housed the chorus and their activities for several years, some time ago was unofficially given over to the Fire department for meeting and club purposes. At this time it appeared that there would be no opposition in the future, as the chorus had been holding meetings for quite some time.

Last week the chorus held a social meeting and announced its intention of holding a business meeting on Tuesday, November 25, at which meeting plans would be drawn up for the coming season. These plans will include several banquets and a few public appearances. The meetings were scheduled to be held at "Community hall." Members of the Fire department on hearing this at first said, "the building is ours." Members of the chorus took a similar attitude. But finally the officials of both organizations came to an agreement. Hereafter the lower floor will be known as the Fireman's hall, while the upper floor will be known as Community hall. The regular meetings of the organizations are scheduled for different nights, the Fire department holding its meetings on Monday evenings and the chorus on Tuesdays.

Judge Clarence R. Hall and Mrs. Fred E. Lacey will be the soloists at the meeting of the Stratfield Parent-Teacher association and the Stratfield Men's club Friday night at the Stratfield Baptist church. Howard Speer, member of a brokerage firm, will speak on "Thrift." Mrs. Herbert Strout will be the accompanist. Edward Pease will preside.

The above is one of two public meetings which the two organizations will hold this year. The other meeting is scheduled for April. Church officers are now inspecting several organs, with a view to purchasing one for the local Baptist church. The money was obtained last year by personal subscriptions.
